

What the Critics are saying...

Evil Dead The Musical:

“Evil Dead: The Musical is solid entertainment” – Colin Thomas – The Georgia Straight

“Down Stage Right Productions has given proof to the adage that money can’t buy everything. For pure acting, comedy, and heart, Evil Dead at the Rothstein can’t be beat.”

“Overall, director Mark Carter has shaped a solid production and has coaxed some life from a show that last week I was ready to toss out.” – Vancouver Musicals

“ ... the DSR Production of Evil Dead: The Musical f*#king rules” – Michael John Unger – Plank Magazine

“This reduction in intimacy is more than made up for by the brilliant direction of Mark Carter, who has whipped his cast into far sharper shape than the Vogue version” – Peter Birnie – Vancouver Sun

“... This hilarious local production, overcoming the challenge of its corporate competitor” - John Jane - Review Vancouver

“The evening is a riot of bad puns, brilliantly bad acting, great singing and fun choreography” – Sean Allen – Review from the House

What About Luv?:

“Director Mark Carter candy-coats it all into a luscious treat”

“See it Luv it. You’ll Leave Happy”
– Kathleen Oliver – The Georgia Straight

“Mark Carter directs the three hander with the surety of someone who understands Musical Theatre so he can send it up with aplomb” -Andrea Rabinovitch – The Vancouver Observer

“...after watching this delightfully oddball production, it is not hard to see why this group has endured.” – Mark Robins – Gayvancouver

“All of the elements come together into a neatly-wrapped quirky gem of a show. This is definitely a must-see” – Reviewer – Vanmusicals.com

The Rocky Horror Show

“...director Mark Carter has put together a stage show that purrs, growls, sizzles and ultimately explodes with a joy that is hard to resist” – Martin Millerchip – North Shore News

“...is brash, rowdy, loud, raunchy, and, for me, amusing in a sit-back-and-take-it-all-in sort of way”
– Jo Ledingham – The Vancouver Courier
